CLIENT CONFIDENTIALITY AND INFORMATION PROTECTION UNDERTAKING

Our commitment

BusinessVance recognises that clients may share valuable business ideas, financial information, operating methods and personal details. We commit to treating this information responsibly, confidentially and only for the purpose of delivering the service purchased.

1. Information covered by this undertaking

- This undertaking applies to information supplied through questionnaires, emails, WhatsApp messages, telephone discussions, documents, meetings or any other communication with BusinessVance.
- Protected information may include business ideas, products, services, processes, pricing, supplier details, customer information, financial information, marketing plans, research, intellectual property and any other information that is not publicly available.

2. BusinessVance confidentiality commitment

- BusinessVance will treat information supplied by the client as confidential.
- Information will be used only to prepare and deliver the product, report or consulting service purchased by the client.
- BusinessVance will not sell, publish, disclose or share the client's information or business idea with unauthorised third parties.
- Access will be limited to authorised persons who reasonably require the information to complete or administer the client's service.
- Reasonable safeguards will be used to protect information against loss, misuse, unauthorised access, alteration or disclosure.

3. Protection and ownership of business ideas

- Any business idea, concept, strategy, business model, product name, process or original material submitted by the client remains the property of the client.
- Submitting information to BusinessVance does not transfer ownership of the client's idea or intellectual property to BusinessVance.
- BusinessVance will not knowingly use, reproduce, market or provide the client's confidential business idea to another person for BusinessVance's own benefit.

4. Personal information and POPIA

- BusinessVance will process personal information only for legitimate purposes connected to the purchased service, administration, communication, recordkeeping and legal compliance.
- Personal information will be handled in line with the Protection of Personal Information Act 4 of 2013 (POPIA), where applicable.
- The client may request access to or correction of personal information held by BusinessVance, subject to reasonable verification and legal recordkeeping requirements.

5. When information may be disclosed

- BusinessVance will not share confidential information unless the client has provided written permission; disclosure is required by law, court order or lawful regulatory process; or limited disclosure is reasonably necessary to an authorised service provider assisting with the client's project and that provider is required to maintain confidentiality.
- This undertaking does not apply to information that is already publicly available through no breach by BusinessVance, was lawfully known before disclosure, or was independently developed without using the client's confidential information.

6. Client responsibilities

- The client is responsible for providing accurate and complete information and for ensuring that the client is authorised to provide any personal, financial or third-party information included in the questionnaire.
- The quality and accuracy of the final report or service depend on the completeness and accuracy of the information supplied.
- Clients should not provide passwords, banking PINs, full payment-card details or other information that is not required for the purchased service.

7. Reports and completed work

- Reports and documents prepared specifically for the client are intended for the client's use and will not be published or distributed by BusinessVance without prior permission.
- BusinessVance may use anonymous and general information for internal service improvement, provided that the client, business and confidential idea cannot reasonably be identified.

8. Information retention and security limitation

- Information may be kept for a reasonable period for service delivery, administration, legal compliance and recordkeeping, after which it will be deleted, destroyed or anonymised where reasonably practical.
- BusinessVance will take reasonable precautions to protect information. However, no electronic communication, online form or data-storage system can be guaranteed to be completely secure.

9. Duration

- This confidentiality commitment starts when the client provides information to BusinessVance and continues after the report or service has been completed, except where the information lawfully enters the public domain or disclosure is legally required.

Important: This document records BusinessVance's confidentiality commitment to the client. It does not replace specialised legal advice or a customised non-disclosure agreement where a transaction involves investors, partners, patented technology, trade secrets or unusually high-value intellectual property.

10. CLIENT ACKNOWLEDGEMENT AND CONSENT

By signing below, or by completing and submitting a BusinessVance questionnaire after receiving this undertaking, the client confirms that:

- The client has read and understood this undertaking.
- The client consents to BusinessVance collecting and using submitted information to provide the purchased service.
- The client understands how the information may be stored, protected and disclosed in the limited circumstances described above.
- The client confirms that the information supplied is accurate to the best of the client's knowledge.
